BENTON STORES PREPARE FOR LAST MINUTE SHOPPERS

Two Days Remain To Complete List of Christmas Gifts

Benton stores will remain open late Friday and Saturday nights to accommodate the usual last minute rush of Christmas shoppers. A survey of several of the stores revealed this week that ample Christmas stocks are on hand to satisfy a big demand. Extra clerks have been hired and prompt and courteous service will be given despite the rush.

Most of the stores have had their holiday decorations up since a day or two after Thanksgiving and have been featuring their Christmas merchandise through advertising earlier than usual this year. To date the majority of Benton merchants say that their holiday volume of business is running better than last year.

Christmas lights have been burning since last week on one block on main street in-front of the courthouse.
A community tree Thursday presented to a number of Benton and Marshall county children.
It is the plan of the WPA recreation leaders to contin-

HOW THE BENTON INDIANS LOST

By Sam C. Wyatt

Emerging from a close set back by the Birmingham quintet, the Benton Indians lost a close game to Coach Terry's highly favored Brewers Redmen on the Brewers floor Wednesday night by the score of 29-27.

The game went for the Indian's all the way until the last two minutes of play when the Redmen made a spurt that gave them the game.

At the end of the first quarter Benton led 7-0; at halftime the score stood 16-9 and at the end of the third frame
the Brewers boys led 21-18.
At the final gun the score stood 26-26. Again at the end of the first overtime period
the score was still knotted, 27-27. With only 40 seconds remaining in the second overtime period Mohler, of Brewers, came through with the winning points.

Lefty Smith, left-forward for Benton, led in the scoring race with 11 points and Smith, right-forward for Brewers came a close second with nine.

ALLEN'S Barber Shop

O. E. Allen Doc Nimmo

N. CHURCH GROVE

By M. H. G.

Christmas nearly here—an' by the time this letter is in type, will be! The Christmas Spirit seems to be circling around in dots and dashes—such darling obedient tow-headers have never been—for the past few days, things have shown a marked improvement around here—the store wood box seems never empty no more—chickens fed on regular schedule—water bucket never empty—table manners improved a hundred per cent. same as their appetite. Well, in fact everything around this little household is in tip top shape and manner and I am positive 'twill last at least until Christmas Eve night—letters by the hundred are thrown up the chimney daily—keeping me ever busy trying to keep the black ashes from falling on the freshly laundered curtains—and am not allowed to sweep an overnight doleweb from the ceiling for fear of twisting the broom handle around a strand of the gay decorations. In the corner is their little tree—how lovely it looks—all dressed up in her finery and roving—and in a few days "she" will rest beside her sisters of the Christmas before—in the bed of the little creek! How sad her heart would be, should she know but right now, she's reigning as "Queen" here. Looks good enuf to eat—if it were topped off with a little whipped cream!

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Green were among those from here to shop in Paducah Saturday.

Mrs. Belle Kinsolving was a very welcome guest of this scribe awhile Friday morning. Nothing excels my lovely friendship with this dear lady—and seems like she knows such comforting words to say if you're wanting to recall other Christmas when "no wheel from the wagon was broken"—no link in the family chain broken, but I guess I'm not the only one, who is going to miss these loved ones so thru the Christmas days—those where there are no missing links can never realize how fortunate they are—and how happy they should be!

Miss Lillie Ivey of near Cherry Grove spent Saturday night here with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brien.

Mrs. Nelle Malone, a former resident of this county, and who now lives in California, was the supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond English Friday night.

Mrs. Woodrow Green and children spent the week end with her mother in Paducah.

Old Blue Monday was brightened by lovely, bright Christmas cards arriving—from relatives in Texas, Ohio and a very sweet one from Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin and little family of Detroit—Such a beautiful verse on this one of Debra's—I could not help but sigh when I read it—and I wondered to myself, if our thoughts were not about the same when we read it—"A Christmas again—without our mothers."

Billy Worthy, a junior at the Tilghman school in Paducah, spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Worthy.

Will ring this column of tom-foolery off—by adding this little wish to the editor and wife and daughter, Anna Murel—and to every reader of this little home paper: May this joyous Christmas-tide and all the New Year too, Bring God's loving blessings to your dear ones—and to you!

CHERRY GROVE

By the time the family sheet gets to all its readers Christmas cheer and greetings will have been mailed to many a friend and pal as well as relative. We "Thirtyniners" will soon be into a brand new year and here is wishing all who reads the old Tribune-Democrat a very bright, cheery Christmas and enough cheer left over to start the New Year '40. Cause it's going to be awful and ver going to have to scrap a lot for the year ends. I'm expecting a lot of "ups and downs" within the year.

I wanted to get a head start "fore the year started" and old '39 left so I took off with the Editor and Associate Editor, and "listened in" to the great statesmen speak, Dec. 4 at Gilbertsville.

Twas a great day and I was glad to see Tennessee so well represented. Her young Governor Prentice Cooper, also the great Senator McKellar and a representative of Dyer and county, Jere Cooper, all had places on the program. Together with our own "Happy" and Gov. Johnson and Noble Gregory. We were glad that our own Alben Barkley, west Kentucky's great Senator (who at that time was in a hospital) at least felt well enough to send a telegram and have it read in with the other orations.

If it takes getting out with the politicians and hearing the politicians speak to be ready for all that may come—then I'm all set—for a hard political year.

More mistakes last week in my little column than was necessary to make complete sense. Naturally the whole thing is a mistake, but when you try to write in the Tribune office, and Wm. S. Hollender, and Eli Creason is asking questions, and the Editor is "kinder" cause it's Christmas time we are all late (I think it was Wednesday when I was in and next day the paper was supposed to be on the streets of Benton and people devouring same) so here's hoping I get the right start in 1940.

More Hog Killins to report this week. Mr. R. W. McGregor and Mr. Leonard Thompson have their hogs killed and ready now to cure and eat.

Mr. Geo. McGregor and Rose Tyree have their killing salted down. Mr. Kermit Roberts killed a five hundred pounder and better last week.

Mr. Wm. Houser had a nice killing also this last week.

"Ye Scribe" wants to wait until day before Christmas "Eve" so if nothing prevents I'll have meat for the holidays—don't pay to get in too big of a hurry.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harper, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McGregor were visiting with Mrs. McGregor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rochie Howard of the county Saturday night.

Effie Blagg and Mrs. Lura Greene spent Friday with Mrs. Roscoe Tyree and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Houser and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Houser and son Elwood were in Paducah Friday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harper,

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Staples and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McGregor and Neal Rosa Blagg were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulen Smith in their new home one night last week.

Pictures of "Ginny" my one and only little grand-one and her first birthday anniversary Dec. 7th were very acceptable to gran' ma when they arrived last week.

Thanks to Mrs. Homer Solomon for material from which I am creating a dress equal to the one she devoured to the early fall.

Thanks also to W. H. Thompson for a lovely fern—for Christmas holidays might be my one and only decoration see!

Mrs. Roscoe Tyree spent a day and night recently with Ye Scribe. We are glad she is able to be out again.

Looks like N. Church Grove reporter would finally learn. "If you want a thing done, do it, if not send." You know years ago Paul Jones waiting for his ship to be repaired, read those words in "Poor Richard's Almanac" and I think mothers with us and inside of the ship to keep mended. "Little phrase" than of that Paul Jones had at that time, cause left to the kid dies: our little barque soon hits the rocks, even the inside of it gets all topsy turvy. So Merry Christmas to all.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE CHILD AND THE KINGDOM
LESSON TEXT—Matthew 1:18-25; 18:1-6; 19:13-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—A little child shall lead them.—Isaiah 11:4.

The children's holiday!
Yes, Christmas is the children's day of days, where have seen the day for those who have been "converted and become" as little children" (Matt. 18:3). It is quite proper that it should be so, for Christmas really means nothing very significant except as we gather at Bethlehem's manger and there we find a child, the Christ-child. Those who come on the morrow to do homage to Him in the spirit of childlike faith will truly keep Christmas. In that spirit the writer of these notes wishes for you who read these lines just that kind of a holy day of joy and gladness.

Let us then go first of all to Bethlehem, and there have seen the One who "became flesh and dwelt among us" as a little child, we shall be ready to go on and learn from Him what a blessed example, responsibility, and opportunity there is in the childhood which we see all around us.

I. The Child—Jesus Our Saviour (Matt. 1:18-25).
The virgin mother Mary "brought forth her firstborn son" and "called his name Jesus"—that one who should "save his people from their sins" (vv. 21, 25). In order that He might be the Saviour, He had to be both God and man. This could only be true as God sent His own only-begotten Son into the world to give to Him a human mother in whom He as the eternal Son of God was "conceived by the Holy Ghost" (as we express it in the creed) and became the Son of Man.

For anyone who believes that God has all power and all wisdom to do what He wills and as He wills, and who further believes that Christ was present as the Son of God before His incarnation, there is no difficulty in believing in the virgin birth. In fact, no other manner of incarnation would have been possible. It necessarily follows that the one who denies the virgin birth of Christ thereby declares that He does not believe in the God of the Scriptures and in Jesus Christ, His Son our Lord.

II. The Child—Our Example (18:1-6).
The disciples had been having a discussion about who was to be the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. This was not because they desired their brothers' advancement, but each one wanted to be the greatest (Luke 9:46).

Jesus frankly told them that they needed a real change of heart, a conversion. True greatness is not a matter of worldly position or ambition, but of a childlike humility. Such an idea was absolutely revolutionary in the day of Jesus, and in fact sounds unbelievable to the worldly man today. But it is nonetheless true that the great man or woman is the one who knows and recognizes himself to be utterly dependent on God in every moment, every circumstance, every trial, and in every opportunity of life. We need to learn of our children.

III. The Child—Our Responsibility (18:3, 6).
These awful, solemn words should be considered with great care. What a terrible judgment awaits those who cause little ones to stumble by reason of their false teaching, their failure to bring God's Word to bear upon their lives, improper discipline in the home, or the influence of a bad example. There are probably preachers, teachers in the Sunday School, grandparents, uncles, aunts, mothers, fathers, yes, even friends of little children who need to reread these verses and then cry out to God in repentance before it is too late.

IV. The Child—Our Opportunity (18:13-19).
Jesus knew the real value of a child and His loving heart reached out to invite the children to come unto Him in love, in obedience, and in trust. When they came, He never failed to bless them.

The glorious thing is that we are privileged to thus bring little children to Him. Someone may say, "Jesus is no longer on earth. I cannot take my child to him." Jesus is not here in the flesh, but He is here ever present with His children. You can bring your child to Him, for the coming which He has in mind is not in the physical sense but rather spiritual. The parents who teach their little ones about the birth of Christ on this Christmas day have brought them to Him. Every word of instruction, every encouragement to pray, every example of devotion to Christ which the child may follow is the true bringing of that child to Him.

Will you do it this Christmas—in the home, in the Sunday School, in the church, anywhere? If you do, there will be blessing beyond your ability to contain it and you will have a blessed Christmas!

FRIENDS AND FOES OF THE KINGDOM
LESSON TEXT—Matthew 13:54-58; 18:23-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.—John 14:24.

Inventory time has come, and it seems that our lesson for today, although it does come in the middle of the study of the Gospel of Matthew, comes too to sort of a pause to consider what has been the result of that which Jesus had said and done thus far in our study.

The answer we find is that He had both friends and foes, both love and hatred. His foes apparently outnumbered His friends, and the hatred was evidently fierce and the love none too warm. So Jesus was defeated? No, far from it. As we know, He won the victory over His enemies.

The situation is not different today. Those who follow Jesus and love Him truly are quite evidently the minority, yet too often it seems that hatred for the cause of Christ has the upper hand. Are we defeated? No, Jesus will ultimately win the victory again. We are on the winning side.

I. Dishonored Because of Jealousy (13:54-58).
One would have supposed that the people of the little, almost unknown town of Nazareth would have been thrilled at the return of its native son, whose fame had also spread its name abroad and whose name was on the lips of thousands because He went about doing good.

They were astonished, but they were not ready to accept Him. They could not deny the fact either of His person or His power, but they could not permit their personal pride and jealousy to lead them to deny Him. "This story teaches us the utterable folly of refusing to accept facts because it is astonishing, yet there are thousands of people standing in that position today concerning Jesus Christ. It is utterly unscientific, not to say irreligious. Here is an astonishing thing. They say we cannot understand how this man had this wisdom. Has He the wisdom? Why, yes, we cannot escape it. Then in the name of God and common honesty obey the injunction and postpone the investigation!" (Campbell Morgan).

II. Hatred Because of Sin (14:1-4).
The pride of heart which causes many to hold themselves too good to follow the lowly Nazarene is sin. This is the sin that which separates men from Christ. D. L. Moody is said to have written on the fly leaf of his Bible, "This book will keep you from sin, or sin will keep you from this book." That is true, and it is also true that sin will keep a man from Christ.

Herod, living in sin, had been rebuked by John and had silenced his accuser by the simple expedient of imprisonment and ultimately by beheading him. But one does not thus put away sin, and when this man heard of Jesus, he at once assumed that John had risen from the dead to plague him still. So Herod also took his place with the enemies of our Lord.

If a man shows his opposition to Christ, whether it be by indifference, or by jealousy, or in outright hatred, be sure there is sin in that man's life. Those who love righteousness love the righteous Lord.

III. Accepted Because of Service (15:23-31).
"The Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister," even to the giving of "his life a ransom for many" (Matt. 20:28). We have so overemphasized and misused the word service that we almost hesitate to speak it in connection with the name of the Lord Jesus. Yet it does summarize His earthly life and ministry. He served the needy with His teaching and preaching, with His provision for their daily needs, with His healing touch, and we read that they wondered and glorified God (v. 31).

We said above that the majority of men appear to reject Christ, but that does not mean that He has no friends. "The communion of saints" is made up of a great and almost numberless host, including in its ranks the finest and most distinguished men and women of all ages who gladly stand side by side with the humblest of believers to be counted for the Lord Jesus.
